Welcome to
The Sea Captain's Nutcracker
A Cape Cod Christmas Voyage!

We are honored to be part of your Cape Cod holiday traditions as this special production makes its return to the stage! As our dedicated students and members of our community work alongside professional artists, a special magic is created. I hope this magic touches and inspires all who participate and attend.

I would like to thank the many volunteers, families, friends, and financial supporters who have made this production a reality. Since theater doesn't really happen until the audience arrives, I would like to take this opportunity to applaud you, the audience, for all your continued generosity and encouragement especially during these trying times. My goal is to lift the human spirit through the arts!

Sit back, relax, and let the magic begin!

Laura Sciortino
Artistic Director

For the safety of our dancers, absolutely no flash photography.

THE VOYAGE

Set in a Chatham Sea Captain's home in the early 1900's...

Prologue

Clara's Attic 1971: Clara, now in her seventies, is reminiscing about the magic and mystery that Christmas held for her as a young girl at the turn of the century when she and her brother, Fritz, lived at home with their widowed mother.

Act I

The Christmas Party is unfolding. The boarding house is full of friends, fancy food, dancing, and laughter. The eccentric Sea Captain, an old family friend and frequent guest at their boarding house, arrives late, bringing presents from his exotic journeys to Spain, Arabia, China, and Russia. Out of his sea chest he pulls a dancing Ballerina Doll and Mooncusser Doll. In those days children knew that Mooncussers were smugglers - dangerous outlaws who lived just like pirates. (Mooncussers got their nickname because they cursed whenever the moon shone from behind clouds to light the dark seas with silver light.) The most memorable of all gifts is the Nutcracker doll that the Sea Captain gives to Clara.

After the guests have departed and everyone is in bed, Clara sneaks downstairs looking for her Nutcracker, but is frightened by the start of a storm. The Sea Captain enters, sensing that something is wrong. He sees the frightened Clara and stays with her until she falls asleep. Overcome with curiosity, Fritz sneaks into the room to peek inside the magic chest. Once open, the chest unleashes a storm that Fritz cannot undo.

The room transforms into the Sea Captain's ship. Fritz and Clara find themselves in the middle of a battle at sea. The Sea Captain, at his much younger age, fights for control of his ship with his Sailors, but the Smuggler - looking suspiciously like their Maid - and her Mooncussers are winning. Brave Clara, aided by the mice, saves the Sea Captain. With great difficulty, they drive their swarming enemy back into the chest, slamming down the lid to contain the storm.

Leaving a puzzled Fritz and the boarding house behind, Clara and the Sea Captain set sail but are driven off course by the snowstorm. The Ice Fairy rescues them by commanding the Winds to guide them to the safety of an enchanted island.

Act II

Clara and the Sea Captain are washed up on the beach of an enchanted island. The Beach Castle Princess, who provides a peaceful haven for people of the faraway lands, greets them. They all dance for Clara. The Sea Captain seems at home on the island, and Clara thinks he has been there before. There is so much happiness on this island that even the Sea Grass seems to dance.

The sun finally sets, and although Clara wakes to find herself an ordinary girl back in the old boarding house on Cape Cod, she will be forever changed by the adventure of the magical Christmas that poured out of the Sea Captain's chest.
